In the realm of oil painting, I find my true passion lies in unraveling the intricate tapestry of human emotions through portraiture. With each brushstroke, I delve into the depths of my subjects' souls, seeking to capture the essence of their feelings and experiences. But it's not just about capturing emotion; it's about creating a visual connection through the gaze of the portrait. I would like to embark on a journey through my artwork, where every stroke of the brush brings forth a world of emotions, inviting you to connect with the eyes that tell stories beyond words
